Hi Carmen,

Sorry for the delayed response. The files are mostly too large for email, but as a another option, the PCB elements of the RAP and supporting documents can be downloaded from DTSC's EnviroStor website (under the Community Involvement tab). The web link to the Pechiney site on EnviroStor is provided below. After accessing the main page for the Pechiney site, click on the Community Involvement tab for the supporting documents. The PCB related documents are under Project Related Documents in the lower portion of the page. Let me know if this works.

Hello Linda:

Do you have an electronic copy of the PCB portion of the Pechiney Remedial Action Plan that EPA approved? If you do, could you please send it via email to me? Hopefully, the file size is not bigger than 8 Megabytes. I only want the PCB portion to share it with another cleanup party that will be performing demolitions at their site.

Thank you for your courtesies.

Sincerely,
Carmen
